

Furthemore, domination of Quercus infectoria Oliv., in western Azarbaijan, Kordestan and Lorestan provinces along with some phenological and physiological factors are the best reason for host preference and dense populated centers of the Cynipid wasps.

Due to the high tannin contain of some of these galls they are economically important and the native farmers of these provinces live on them.